

John 12

Jesus said, ²⁴...unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains just a single grain; but if it dies, it bears much fruit...

²⁶Whoever serves me must follow me, and where I am, there will my servant be also. Whoever serves me, God will honor.

Discussion:

How did the “grain of wheat” analogue work for you in 2014?

What was your greatest achievement in 2014? Did it require sacrifice?

What brought happiness, joy, and fulfillment to you this year?

Tell a story about something you enjoyed in this past year – a walk on the beach, a hike on your favorite hill or mountain, a family outing, a favorite vacation, a way you expressed yourself through a sport or hobby, etc. Did you make any discoveries?

How can the “grain of wheat” analogue work for you to help you live a more fruitful life in 2015?

What can you do to make life better for yourself and those around you in 2015?

What do you plan to do next year to make your life more enjoyable, more meaningful? What story would you like to tell?

How do we best follow and serve Jesus in any endeavor in life?

What most pleases you about the mission and ministry of Redwoods Presbyterian Church?